WOMAN BITTEN BY A MAD CAT

Miss Ada Lupp Taken to Marietta for Pasteur Treatment Following Bite of Cat Suffering from Rabies.

Bitten on the hand by a pet cat suffering from rabies, Miss Ada M. Lupp, of Brysonia, was taken to Marietta, Lancaster County, on Friday to take the Pasteur treatment. Instances of cats becoming mad are said to be rare.

On Monday last Miss Lupp noticed that one of the cats at the barn was not well and picked it up to take it into the house. She had scarcely taken hold of the animal when it snapped at her and bit her right hand. The family was much alarmed on account of the mad dog scare which has existed in the upper end of the county for the past few weeks and steps were at once taken to learn whether or not the cat was infected.

Dr. Merriman was called on the case and he instructed Mr. Lupp to kill the cat and send the head to the state laboratories at Philadelphia for inspection. On Thursday evening Dr. Merriman received a telegram from the laboratory officials stating that the examination showed the cat to have been affected with rabies and on Friday Mr. Lupp accompanied his daughter to Marietta for treatment which will require three weeks.

Roy Raffensperger, of Arendtsville, who was bitten by his dog some weeks ago and is taking treatment at the same place, is getting along nicely and will be able to return home in the very near future.

It is supposed that the cat was bitten some weeks ago by a dog which had been bitten by the Raffensperger mad dog. It is said that rabies develops in four or five days in cats.

On Christmas day a dog supposed to have been mad visited the section of the county between Arendtsville and Mummastown, fighting with dogs of Jacob F. Deardorff and Charles R. Hartman. It was finally killed by Clarence Arnold and the head was sent on Friday by Dr. E. D. Hudson to the laboratories in Philadelphia. Dr. Hudson quarantined the entire section through which the dog is thought to have traveled. The owner is not known.

The Baldwin dog which is said to have been bitten some weeks ago has been killed.

BUCHANAN VALLEY

Buchanan Valley—Mr. and Mrs. George Shultz, of Waynesboro, visited their daughter, Mrs. Frank Baker, last week.

Francis Beck has returned to his home in the Valley after having been employed by Harry Deardorff, near Cashtown.

George Melbert, of York, is visiting his grandfather, Jacob J. Kohl, during his vacation from St. Joseph's College, in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Brien and two children, of Arlington, Illinois, and brother, Edward, will spend some time with their parents, and relatives in the East.

John A. Irvin has been suffering from a sprained arm the past week, but is much improved.

Miss Margaret Shepard who had recently been operated on for gall stones, contracted pneumonia in the early part of this week, and has been quite ill.

Chauncey Orndorff, of York, was a visitor at the home of Jacob J. Kohl over Christmas.

The snow predicted for Christmas came, and we had ten inches on Tuesday morning. People were sleighing and said the roads were good. A great many people were kept home from the Christmas services at St. Ignatius' church by the deep snow.

Our rural mail carrier never brought into the Valley as many packages as he did this week. He looked like a veritable Santa Claus packed in a long boxes of all sizes and descriptions.

PETER CULP

Peter Culp died suddenly on Friday evening at his home on Water street from heart failure. He was aged 71 years, 5 months and 13 days.

Mr. Culp had not been well earlier in the fall and was warned of the condition of his heart. On Friday afternoon he had been transacting some lodge business at his shop and after finishing it walked into his house, and sat down on a chair. He was there scarcely a minute when he fell over, death being almost immediate.

Mr. Culp was one of the town's best known citizens. For years he has conducted his carpenter shop on Water street and had done work at one time or another for many of the people of the town. Some years ago he was a constable from the second ward, later he served as school director, being treasurer of the board, also; and at the time of his death was borough tax collector, serving upon court appointment after the resignation of William H. Frock. He was a member of the Order of Independent Americans and the Patriotic Order Sons of America. Mr. Culp was always pleasant and cordial and had a wide circle of friends.

He leaves his wife who, before marriage, was Miss Margaret E. Steinhilber; and four daughters, Mrs. Annie Aumen, of New Haven, Conn.; Mrs. Jennie Williams and Miss Emma Culp, at home; Mrs. Allen B. Plank, of Gettysburg.

WILL ESTABLISH TWO NEW COURSES

Mechanical and Electrical to be Established at College. Other Business of Board of Trustees' Meeting.

Courses in mechanical and electrical engineering will be added to the curriculum of Gettysburg College according to action taken by the board of trustees at its mid-winter meeting in Harrisburg on Friday. The courses will be so arranged that Freshmen, choosing either, may be admitted at the opening of the college next September.

The addition of these two courses will give the college a full equipment of engineering work. Prof. Richard S. Kirby, professor of civil and municipal engineering, will be at the head of the new department also.

President Granville announced at the meeting of the board that only $50,000 remained to be collected before next July for the completion of the endowment fund, a report that was received with much gratification by the members. The sum of $180,000 has been provided up to this time.

Hon. D. P. McPherson was appointed instructor in commercial law for the scholastic year 1913-1914.

The arrangements with the Gettysburg Summer School were continued with the additional privilege of inserting the list of instructors, course of study and list of students in the catalogue number of the College Bulletin. In recognition of Prof. Sanders' success with the school last summer he was appointed principal.

Two new members of the board were elected, C. H. Boyer, manager of the Casualty Department of the National Life Insurance Company, of Chicago, and Winslow S. Pierce, of New York, a graduate of college in 1879, former president of the Western Maryland and now chairman of the reorganization of the Wabash. The resignation of Dr. M. G. Boyer was accepted with regret and resolutions of appreciation for his services. Upon his retirement his son, C. H. Boyer, established in his honor, a $5,000 fund to be used in the creation of scholarships.

LARGE CATAMOUNT

Two Men Attacked in Barn by Large Catamount.

On Thursday night as Francis Gardner was harnessing his horse in Greg Schweikert's barn about a half a mile from Emmitsburg, preparatory to his return to that town, a large catamount pounced from the hay loft above him and attacked Gardner and Schweikert. The animal fought in wild cat fashion and would undoubtedly have borne Gardner to the ground, and inflicted serious injuries had it not been that Schweikert, grabbing a pair of heavy hams, felled the animal, breaking its forelegs. Even while on its back the catamount fought furiously, until killed by the lucky and well directed stroke from a single-tree in the hands of Gardner. The noise and excitement of the scuffle for a moment stampeded the horses in the stable, one of which kicked several boards out of its box stall, but by the efforts of the two men and the assistance rendered by the inmates of the house, who quickly came to the rescue, they were finally quieted.

The catamount was weighed Friday morning. It tipped the beam at 42 pounds and measured thirty inches in length. It is supposed that the wild cat, driven towards civilization by hunger, came down from the vicinity of Rocky Gap, near which place several of the animals have been seen. This makes the second appearance of catamounts in this neighborhood this season.

GOV. WILSON AT STAUNTON

Home Town in Gala Attire For Celebration.

HE REVIEWS BIG PARADE

President-Elect Attends Banquet Tonight and Will Return to Princeton Tomorrow.

Staunton, Va., Dec. 28. — President-elect Wilson slept last night in the house in which he was born. Today he and Mrs. Wilson are participating in the old home celebration, and the city is crowded with throngs of people from all sections of the state anxious to see the next president.

Among the visitors are: Governor and Mrs. Mann, Lieutenant Governor Elyson, A. J. Montague, former governor and now congressman-elect; former Lieutenant Governor Willard, Richard Evelyn Byrd, speaker of the house and Mr. Wilson's campaign manager in Virginia; John Stewart Bryan, Charles V. Meredith, C. B. Cooke, S. M. Smith and Robert L. Montague.

The city is gorgeously decorated with flags and bunting. A great arch, with the words "Welcome Home," outlined in incandescent bulbs, formed the gateway through which the people welcomed home their distinguished native son with the party accompanying him.

The streets have been strung for blocks with incandescent bulbs and gas are lamps; flags and bunting are in evidence on business blocks and private houses, and streets have been flushed and scrubbed and swept for the passing of the parade. Nearly a score of police and detectives came to Staunton to lend their aid in caring for the crowds that will be attracted by the affair.

The parade will be the greatest feature of the celebration and will be reviewed by Governor Wilson and his party.

Tonight Mr. Wilson will attend a banquet in his honor and will leave Staunton at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The president-elect was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, and they were warmly greeted at many points along the route from Princeton.

At Washington the party was joined by Senators Swanson, of Virginia; Marine, of New Jersey; Representatives Jones and Carlin, of Virginia, and other members of both houses of congress.

BULLETS FLY IN STOVES

Celebrating Joker Has Fun Seeing Others Skip Out.

Cootesville, Pa., Dec. 28.—After confiscating a slot machine which he claimed had cheated him out of $9 in Eliza Allen's store, Nick Redman, colored, returned to that place for some "fun."

He threw a handful of big revolver cartridges into the stove and laughed as the other colored men dodged the popping bullets.

Later he sauntered into ex-Police-man Al Burrell's poolroom, said he was "going to blow all the players up," and he tossed a box of big cartridges into the stove. The room was badly "shot up," as the stove was thin and the bullets punctured the stove like a sieve. Redman was arrested.

SHOCK "SUSPENDS" LIFE

Electrician in Trenton Baffles Efforts of Physicians to Revive Him.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 28.—With "animation suspended," as the result of an electric shock, Warner T. Vandegrift, an electrician, lies in the Mercy hospital.

His case baffles all the efforts of the physicians to revive him or to induce any indication of the life they know is still in his body.

Vandegrift was sent to the old power house on Ingham avenue to repair a wire. He was on top of a car at work when a heavy current passed through his body. The man was hurled to the street and has lain since as one dead.

Indian Chief Fatally Injured.

Lockport, N. Y., Dec. 28.—John Williams, chief of the Tuscarora Indians, was fatally injured and his sixteen-year-old son instantly killed, when Williams, in a frenzy, fired a shotgun at a box of dynamite stored in his house on the Tuscarora reservation. The explosion wrecked the house and injured two other Indians. Williams had been drinking.

Arrest Western State Printer.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 28. — Giles W. Farris, state printer, was arrested here on a warrant charging him with the forgery of state warrants. An examination by Parkinson, state examiner and inspector, it is alleged, disclosed more than $21,000 in illegal warrants that had been issued against the maintenance fund.

James R. Keene Worse.

New York, Dec. 28. — James R. Keene, who has not been in good health for a long while, was reported in worse condition at his hotel apartments than at any time since he returned from abroad several months ago.

CIPRIANO CASTRO.

Government May Prevent Him Entering United States.

TO DETAIN CASTRO

Searching For Grounds to Deport Ex-President of Venezuela.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Cipriano Castro, ex-president of Venezuela, said to be on board the steamship La Tourelle, due at New York from Havre tomorrow, will be detained at the Ellis Island immigration station until Secretary Nagel, of the department of commerce and labor, has personally passed upon his admissibility to the United States.

Mr. Nagel has instructed Commissioner of Immigration Williams at New York to subject Castro to a rigid inspection under the immigration laws to determine his right to enter and to forward the result to Washington, even though the examination failed to show grounds for deporting the Venezuelan.

This unusual course is due to the fact that the state department has requested Secretary Nagel to strictly apply the immigration laws to the ex-president. That department is searching for evidence which would bar Castro.

DEVICE INSTANTLY STOPS FAST TRAINS

Railroad Tests Invention to Prevent Collisions.

Huntingdon, Pa., Dec. 28. — A new electrical device designed to stop instantly rapidly moving trains has had three different tests on the Huntingdon & Broadtop railroad here.

The first test was made from the rear end, by stopping one train some distance in advance of the block station, while another train following at a high rate of speed was brought to a standstill by the automatic device.

The other tests were made head-on with engines drawing two cars each and the last with two light engines running at high speed. In each instance the device worked satisfactorily and was pronounced a success by those in charge of the demonstration.

The device is a short rail fastened to the middle of the gauge in the track, which is raised when the signal is at normal. The engines are equipped with an electrically connected wheel. When this wheel comes in contact with the short rail it closes the throttle, shutting off the steam and applies the airbrakes automatically.

U. S. SENATOR-ELECT BURNED

Kansas Representative In Upper House Catches Fire Playing Santa Claus.

Garden City, Kan., Dec. 28.—William H. Thompson, United States senator-elect, narrowly escaped serious injury Christmas night, it was learned, when his Santa Claus costume caught fire.

His hands were burned and most of his hair singed off. The senator threw himself on the floor, wrapped himself in a rug and so extinguished the fire.

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 28.—When he entered a restaurant on East Front street and ordered breakfast, Robert Killinger, aged fifty-seven years, saw a bottle on the counter which he supposed contained whisky. He drank the contents and fell to the floor in agony. The bottle contained carbolic acid. He was removed to the Delaware hospital, where he died.

DON'T WANT WAR REOPENED

Believed Turkey is Only Fighting With Diplomacy.

ARE WORRIED BY AUSTRIA

Balkan Allies Are Unable to Understand Failure to Demobilize Her Army.

London, Dec. 28.—Turkey's reply to the demands made several days ago by the Balkan allies as a basis for peace in southeastern Europe will be delivered today to the peace conference in St. James' palace.

Interest, however, again has shifted from this phase of the situation and is centered in the question of what are the intentions of Austria with respect to the Balkans.

The peace delegates are prepared to consider the reply of the Ottoman government and its counter proposals, starting though the latter may be, as simply points for future negotiation. It is well known that Turkey has not the least hope of obtaining what she no longer demands and also that she has no intention of resuming a war which may result in further disaster to her.

This aspect of the situation seems to receive confirmation from the fact that several attempts already have been made unofficially by members of the Turkish delegation to get the Montenegrin, Serbian and Greek delegates to recede from the demand that Adrianople be surrendered, promising in return that Turkey will not object to their respective enlargement territorially.

These advances, and reports emanating from Constantinople that Bulgaria is negotiating terms direct with Turkey there, are considered to have as their basic purpose an attempt to divide the allies.

The representatives of the Balkan states, however, have resisted any temptations placed in their way and present as united a front as they did the first day of the negotiations, and are just as determined as ever to have their own way in concluding peace.

Instead of diminishing, excitement is growing among the Serbian and Montenegrin delegations over what are considered Austria's plans in the Balkans.

That the dual monarchy seems determined to carry out these plans is considered to be proved by the fact that she has not as yet begun to demobilize the big army she recently called to the colors.

It is now considered certain that at the resumption of the ambassadorial conference Jan. 2 Austria will urge the representatives of Europe to make the territory of autonomous Albania as large as possible, including in it Pristina, Djacova and even Scutari.

Meanwhile Austria is tempting Montenegro by proposing in exchange for Austria's support and the occupation of Scutari by Montenegro that Austria be given possession of the mountains dominating Cattaro, which thus would become such an impregnable naval stronghold as to make the Vienna government the real master of the Adriatic sea.

Italy, the power chiefly interested, opposes a scheme that gives her rival the coveted supremacy of the sea that once was considered a Venetian lake. Russia equally is anxious to prevent the Austrian project which if successful would stifle forever the Muscovite ambition to obtain an outlet in the Adriatic.

TAFT FOR PEACE PRIZE

Much Interest Manifested in Award of Next Year.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Regulations covering the next award of the Nobel peace prize, which is to be made on Dec. 10, 1913, have been received by the government from the Nobel committee of the Norwegian parliament.

Inasmuch as President Taft is likely to be mentioned in this connection, because of his efforts to bring about international peace by treaty and otherwise, there is great interest shown in Washington over the next award.

While the president's immediate plans have been temporarily blocked by the senate, he himself still feels most strongly on the subject of peace; and, after he leaves Washington, he will continue agitation in its behalf.

Soldiers Help Fight Fire.

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 28. — Fire, presumably caused by backfire from a gasoline engine in the plant of the American Power company at Delaware City, totally destroyed the plant and will leave Fort Dupont and Delaware City without light until other arrangements can be made. The Delaware City fire department, aided by 500 soldiers from Fort Dupont, attacked the blaze, but despite their efforts the plant was destroyed.

KING MAY HONOR MRS. WARD

Dukedom For Prince Arthur of Connaught Also Rumored.

London, Dec. 28.—The honors to be conferred by King George on New Year's Day have given rise to some interesting rumors.

The vacancy roll of the Order of Merit naturally creates the greatest speculation. The name of Mrs. Humphry Ward, the writer, has been mentioned in this connection, but it is likely that while she will receive some recognition, this greater honor will go to some member of the British academy.

Johnston Forbes-Robertson, the actor, it is said, will on this occasion be dubbed a knight. Prince Arthur of Connaught, the son of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, is due to receive a dukedom, probably that of Kent, but this may be postponed until the king's birthday.

MCABE TO QUIT WITH PRESIDENT

Storm Center of Pure Food Inspection to Resign.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Solicitor McCabe, of the department of agriculture, who has been a storm center in that department for some years past, on account of pure food and meat inspection matters, will not remain in the government service under the Wilson regime.

Mr. McCabe is planning to drop out of office at the end of this administration and go into business in the far west, according to close friends. He has been getting ready for this for some time. He does not intend to make an attempt to get on with the Democratic administration and then find himself suddenly "fired."

Were he to remain there is not much doubt he would be forced out by hungry Democrats who want the place, to say nothing of the opposition to him which his course in the department has provoked, and which President-elect Wilson would be compelled to take account of.

There seem to be about the usual number of farmers who are selecting their seed corn at husking time. Just so long as this practice is followed will there be a seed corn problem in the spring.

If the sewer pipe running from the house to the cesspool is not laid to a pretty good depth and does not have a good slant it will be a wise idea to give the ground above the sewer pipe a good covering of horse manure.

CONGRESSMAN HENRY DIES

Representative From 16th Penna. District Succumbs to Apoplexy.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 28.—John G. McHenry, of Benton, Columbia county, who represented the Sixteenth district in congress, died at his home from apoplexy, aged fifty-four years.

McHenry had not been in good health for over a year. For years he was a power in the Democratic party in his section of the state.

He was elected to congress in 1906 from the Sixteenth district and was re-elected in 1908 and 1910. He was manager of a distillery and head of the Farmers Grange banks in several counties.

Wonderful Feats That Are Performed by Modern Machinery.

The rapidity with which watches are nowadays manufactured has been made possible by the ingenious machinery designed within recent years for the making of all parts of a watch. The speed with which these various parts are turned out is little short of marvelous. Great sheets of brass and steel are cut and rolled into ribbons and punched out into wheels at the rate of 10,000 a day from each punching machine. Workers drill the thirty-one holes in the roof of the watch as fast as they can cut.

Brass wire glides into a machine that measures off the length of a part, turns it, puts a screw thread on each end and actually screws it in at the rate of 2,000 a day.

The screws are of such tiny size that fifty gross of them may be put in a woman's thimble, while of others there are a thousand gross to the pound.

Balances are cut from the solid steel, ground down, worked up and drilled with their twenty-five screw holes apiece at the rate of 100 wheels a day from each machine.

Wheels have their teeth cut, a couple of dozen at a time, some with from sixty to eighty teeth, at the rate of 1,200 wheels a day from each machine. —Harper's Weekly.

PARCELS POST GUIDE A PUZZLE

Circles, Zones and Squares Spell Chaos to Uninitiated.

HOW COUNTRY IS DIVIDED

Philadelphia Is Center of the First Zone, With 11,000 Square Miles and 1008 Towns.

Philadelphia, Dec. 28.—While the parcels post maps are a study in circles and quadrangles, it is possible for the average person, with the aid of the maps and guides prepared by the government, to determine the cost of sending a package anywhere in the United States.

The large cities of the country are made centers of zones. The map for Philadelphia shows it to be in the center of the first zone, composing an area representing approximately 11,000 square miles. The population within this territory is considerably greater than 2,000,000, represented in 1008 towns.

Taking the postoffice building as the center, a circle, with a radius of fifty miles, is drawn to complete the first zone. A study of the map, however, shows that some cities and towns that are more distant than fifty miles by rail or water from Philadelphia, are within the first zone. In other words, while the area within the circle is 785 miles square, the entire area of the first zone is about 11,000 square miles.

This is explained in the following manner: The entire country is divided into quadrangles. Each quadrangle is one-half of a degree of longitude and latitude in breadth and length. Each side is approximately thirty-five miles in length. All quadrangles intersected by the circle forming the outer boundary of a zone are considered as being entirely within such zone.

As an instance, Ocean City, N. J., is sixty-five and a half miles from Philadelphia by the shortest railroad line, is in quadrangle designated on the government map by the number 820. It is at the extreme end of that quadrangle, but because the circle of the Philadelphia zone touches part of the 820 area, Ocean City is included within the first zone. Atlantic City is within quadrangle 770 on the map, which is not touched by the circle.

Therefore, Atlantic City is outside the first zone, and is included in the second zone, for which the rate of postage is higher. It will cost more to send a package by the parcel post system to Atlantic City, fifty-five and a half miles by the shortest line from Philadelphia, than from Philadelphia to Ocean City, though the latter is ten miles further from Philadelphia by rail.

Fortunately the general public, seeking information as to rates of postage under the new system, operative next Wednesday, will not be obliged to consult the maps and guide books which Uncle Sam is issuing for enlightenment. The man at the window in main postoffices will be equipped to give all required information. He will have all the maps and guide books necessary. Business firms, however, which desire to weigh and attach stamps to a great number of packages before delivery to the postoffice stations, probably will depend to a great extent on the maps and guides, to save trouble and time for the person who takes the merchandise to Uncle Sam.

A firm of map makers has prepared a map showing the Philadelphia and contiguous zones. Certain inaccuracies as to the extent of the "first zone" circle were discovered. A consultation with the postoffice department in Philadelphia by representatives of the company resulted in a conference with the New York office.

Later the long distance telephone was used by the company's agents for instructions from the department at Washington. Reading was listed on one of the sample maps as being outside the Philadelphia zone, though the quadrangle on the same map showed Reading to be within the "first zone." Another inaccuracy was the elimination of Ocean City as part of the "first zone."

The official maps contain nearly 6000 quadrangles, or units of area. Each quadrangle is numbered. To determine, therefore, whether a given city is within the first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh or eighth zone, it becomes necessary to consult the official guide or the postoffice officials. The guide lists the cities and towns alphabetically under state headings, and the numbers appear so that the map quadrangles may be followed intelligently.

A map is of little value without the guide, and neither is absolutely necessary to the general public, for the stations at which parcels post packages are received furnish the information as to rates and all other features of the system.

Entire Village Massacred.—Sydney, N. S. W., Dec. 28.—News of the massacre of men, women and children, composing virtually the entire population of a native village on the island of Papua, was received here. The village is some distance from the capital of the island and the massacre took place while Lemna natives were passing through it enroute to their own settlement. The Lemnas attacked the villagers, resorting to terrible cruelties.

MOTHER FROZEN TO DEATH

Christmas Joy Driven From Home of Resident of New Jersey.

Mount Holy, N. J., Dec. 28.—It has just been learned that death banished Christmas joy at the home of John Lowther, who lives in the pines near Chatsworth, the body of his wife having been brought home, frozen to death, just before their Christmas dinner was ready.

Mrs. Lowther and her two daughters left Harris Station to walk home, a distance of four miles, and got lost in the woods. Realizing the terrible situation of her mother, Mary, aged fourteen years, picked up her younger sister and started for help. It was not long before they were overcome and were compelled to lie in the snow all night. Mary had her hands and feet badly frozen, but Dr. Haines, of Medford, thinks amputation can be avoided.

A resident of the Pines found the girls while carting shingles. Later he found the body of the mother. Unloading his wagon, he took the unfortunate ones home.

AWAIT VERDICT IN DYNAMITE CASES

The Jury is Expected to Report Today.

Indianapolis, Dec. 28.—The jury in the dynamiting cases, which went out on Thursday, will probably report today.

The attorneys for the defendants concede that some of the defendants will be convicted, but hope that the majority will be freed by the jury, while the attorneys for the prosecution appear to be confident that the heads of the dynamite conspiracy will be convicted and that two-thirds or three-fourths of the forty men on trial will be caught in the net with them. Neither the defense nor the prosecution regard the delay to reach a verdict as significant of anything.

Because the jurors have been in confinement since Oct. 1 and will be anxious to get home for Sunday a verdict is expected today, even if compromises have to be made in the case of some of the defendants.

AFTER THE BOOK TRUST

Injunction Against Agreements Sought in Supreme Court.

Washington, Dec. 28.—The final fight against the so-called "book trust" opened in the supreme court of the United States when a printed agreement was filed asking for an injunction against the carrying into effect of the agreements between publishers and booksellers alleged to control the supply and sale of books.

Those sought to be enjoined are the American Publishers' association, a New York corporation, said to be composed of publishers of about 75 per cent of the books of the country; many of its members, and the American Book Sellers' association, an unincorporated association, said to be composed of a large majority of the book sellers in the United States.

Pay $20,000 Fine For Labor Violation.

Boston, Dec. 28.—The federal government's proceedings against the Barre Wool Combing Company, Limited, of South Barre, Mass., for violations of the alien contract labor law, were ended on the payment of the company in the United States court of $20,000 in fines. The settlement was the result of an agreement with Attorney General Wickersham by which criminal action against F. Vernon Willey, manager, and Arthur T. Saville, of Bradford, Eng., an agent, was abandoned.

Girl Asleep Eighty-six Hours.

Sterling, Ill., Dec. 28.—Grace Odell, eleven years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Odell, has been fast asleep for eighty-six hours. Physicians have used every means known to awaken her, but they have been unsuccessful. A recent vaccination is believed to have caused her long slumber.

King George Goes Shooting.

London, Dec. 28.—King George was so far recovered from his indisposition that he was out shooting, according to a statement made by Sir Frederick Ponsonby, private secretary to his majesty.

The Scrap Book

Old "Eagle Eye's" Mean Trick.
"Jake Beckley was one of the few players who ever made me look like a monkey," said old Honus Wagner of the Pirates the other day. "It happened in Louisville years ago, and Tim Hurst was umpiring. I was on first base and saw Jake hide the ball under his arm. I told him several times I was wise to such bush league stuff, but Jake pretended he did not hear. Finally, when Hurst was not looking, I grabbed the ball from under Jake's arm and threw it into right field. Then I started for second base, only to have the pitcher throw another ball to the second baseman, and I was run down between the bases. I felt so cheap I could have dropped clean through to China. Beckley had been holding a dummy ball."—New York Press.

Lend a Hand Anywhere.
If you cannot on the ocean
Sail among the swiftest fleet,
Rocking on the highest billow,
Laughing at the storms you meet,
You can stand among the sailors
Anchored yet within the bay,
You can lend a hand to help them
As they launch their boats away.

If you cannot in the harvest
Gather up the richest sheaves
Many a grain both ripe and golden
May the careless reapers leave.
Go and glean among the briers
Growing rank against the wall,
For it may be that their shadow
Hides the heaviest wheat of all.
Do not, then, stand idly waiting
For some greater work to do.
Fortune is a fickle goddess,
She will never come to you.
Go and toil in any vineyard,
Do not fear to do and dare.
If you want a field of labor
You can find it anywhere.
—Margaret E. Sangster.

Better Off.
One day during a rehearsal at His Majesty's theater in London, Sir Herbert Tree told a rather incompetent young actor to step back a little. The actor did so, and the rehearsal proceeded. After a few seconds Sir Herbert repeated his request, "A little farther back, please."
The actor stepped back again. Sir Herbert surveyed him critically for a moment and continued the rehearsal. Then for a third time Sir Herbert asked him to stand back a little.
"But," protested the actor, "if I stand farther back I shall be off the stage altogether."
"Yes," agreed Sir Herbert, "that will be much better."

A Turkish Joke.
A certain sultan of Turkey was very fond of gossip and sent for the banker Abraham Beg to learn the small talk of Pera and Stamboul. As Abraham was being conducted to the sultan's residence by the master of the horse that functionary begged him should the sultan question him on the subject to say that the funds were at 30, his majesty having been so informed by his ministers.
Poor Abraham consented.
He had not been long with Abdul Aziz when he was questioned as to the funds and replied as he had promised.
To the horror of the banker, the sultan expressed himself delighted and handed Abraham a large bundle of bonds to sell for him.
Abraham sold at 12 and paid Abdul Aziz 30. The sultan had originated that little "joke."

Prince Danilo's Story.
The patriarchal manners of the little court of Montenegro are well known. King Nicholas lives the simple life of a shepherd king, and his wife has brought up her family herself. Every evening she used to bring the children round her, those daughters whom King Nicholas is once said to have mentioned in reply to the accusation that his country had no exports, and the son, Prince Danilo.
Every night she told them one of the legends of the Black mountains from which their country takes its name, and every night the little children had in turn to tell her a story, the most successful being rewarded with a sweet meat.
One evening little Danilo was very thoughtful and refused to tell his story, saying he was really too sad.
"Come, come, Danilo; I must insist," said his mother.
"A very short one, then."
"All right, a very short one."
"And you will kiss me after I have told it?"
"It's a promise."
"Well, then, once upon a time there was a Sevres vase, and I have just broken it."
The Sevres vase was a present from the French republic, but Danilo's mother had to keep her word and kiss the culprit.—New York Sun.

The Conductor's Mistake.
A conductor on the St. Louis and Suburban railroad had such a good run of business Sunday afternoon that he had difficulty in keeping himself supplied with small change. Many passengers who patronized his car handed him dollars and bills of larger denominations in payment of their fares. The conductor, however, managed to get along fairly well until a woman carrying a tiny infant boarded his car. When he approached the woman for her fare she handed him a five dollar bill.
"Is that the smallest you have, and am I?" queried the conductor, fearing another stringency in change.
The woman looked at the conductor and then at her baby and made this surprising reply, "Yes; I have been married only twelve months."

Two Good Ideas.
Scott—It's a good idea when angry to count ten before you speak. Mott—True; also when "touched" to count a thousand before you lend.—Boston Transcript.

GORDON'S FLUNDER.

Grave Tactical Mistake of a Budding English General.
When General Gordon was a lad at school he was as mischievous as most boys. When the boys had done any thing wrong they were shut up in a large, barely furnished room and set to write lines from a Latin author.
Gordon was one of the most frequent prisoners in this room, and he used to be annoyed by the boys who were free coming to the door and jeering at him through the keyhole. Resolving to get even, he procured a large syringe, and taking it with him the next time he went to write lines, he went round to the various desks and sucked up the ink into the syringe.

By and by he heard stealthy footsteps coming down the passage. Nearer and nearer they came and at last halted outside the door. "They are peeping through the keyhole," whispered the future general, and, placing the syringe to the keyhole, he squirted the contents through with all the energy he could muster.
There was a smothered exclamation of disgust, and then some one fumbled with the handle of the door. It opened, and in stalked the head master, his face black with wrath and his once snowy shirt front black with ink. We must draw a veil over the painful scene which followed.—London Globe.

NOISES OF PEKING.

Hideos Din Raised by the Vendors That Throng the Streets.
An analysis of the street noises of Peking has been made by the correspondent of a western American newspaper and ought to be useful when the anti-noise crusade reaches the orient. The great cause of confusion he finds is the various street vendors, each of whom is armed with a noise producing instrument by which he proclaims his trade.

The barber has two prongs of steel through which he draws a spike and thus makes a loud whir. The seller of sweetmeats holds in his right hand two brass cups which he jangles together. The buyer of old clothes taps a small drum with a bit of tarred bamboo, getting by this combination a plunk, plunk that attracts trade. The man who has wicker baskets to sell beats half a gourd with a drumstick, the clothes seller swags a drum which has two bits of metal attached to it by strings, the toy dealer strikes a brass gong of a peculiarly penetrating tone, the knife grinder claps three blocks of iron together, and the seller of charcoal announces his coming by a repeated tap, tap on a block of wood.

The watchman manages to introduce a little variety. He is armed with a wooden drum, which he taps in different measures to mark the different hours of the night. The sound of his drum, however, carries no certain assurance. On the night when Peking was looted you would not have known from him that anything was wrong. In the intervals of the rifle fire the sound of his drum rose undismayed, signaling in superb nonchalance the exciting hours.

The fact is that he is not on duty to catch thieves or even to scare them off, as are some of the Japanese watchmen. His function is nobler. The sound of his drum frightens away the spirits of evil, without whose presence no self respecting thief can hope to pull off a successful job.

Slept For a Week and Made Enough to Live on For a Year.

To sleep for one's living, says the London Chronicle, may appeal to some as a more attractive alternative than to work for one's living. But the feat has been achieved. In the Daily Courant of Aug. 9, 1711, the following advertisement appears: "Nicholas Hart, who slept last year in St. Bartholomew's hospital, intends to sleep this year at the Cock and Bottle in Little Britain." Some further particulars of this professional somnolent are to be found in the Spectator for Oct. 1 of that year. It appears that Hart was every year seized with a periodical fit of sleeping, which began on Aug. 5 and ended on the 11th. Its various stages are thus described:

"On the 1st of that month he grew dull; on the 2d, appeared drowsy; on the 3d, fell a-yawning; on the 4th, began to nod; on the 5th, dropped asleep; on the 6th, was heard to snore; on the 7th, turned himself in his bed; on the 8th, recovered his former posture; on the 9th, fell a-stretching; on the 10th, about midnight, awakened; on the 11th, in the morning, called for a little small beer." This performance, it is asserted, gained for Hart "enough to support himself for a twelvemonth."
